Pastor Leonid . . . Arrives in Washington

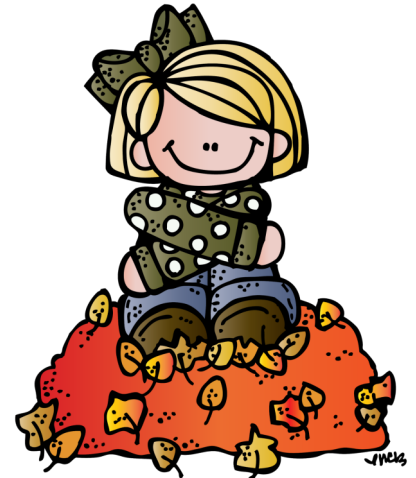

Some of our House of Hope Board Members were able to spend some quality time with Pastor Leonid during his visit here in Washington.

With the help of Alex, his younger brother, as our interpreter, we were able to better understand the current conditions regarding the uprising as well as discuss some future plans and goals for the orphanage.

Pastor Leonid shared that the kids are very thankful that the explosions from the war have ceased in their area and are praying that it will continue to be quiet.

- ◇ Pastor Leonid's major goal is to see that the children are getting the best education possible. He feels they are meeting this goal with the help of a recently retired teacher who has come aboard to assist with coordinating this program.
- ◇ Upgrading the computer center with new equipment will help provide the children with the best learning environment. They are very thankful for Arkti, a local gentleman capable of overseeing this project.
- ◇ Plans have been discussed to open a mechanic's shop and tire store in the near future to help develop an income stream for the orphanage. Several of the students have expressed an interest in this vocation.
